HER EIGHTH BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. Cora Robbins entertained with a most delightful party at her home on East Fourth street. Thursday afternoon, in honor of the eighth birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Marjory May, at which ten little friends of the honor guest were present.

The hours from 3:30 to 5:30 were merrily spent in games and contests, the prize winners in the latter being Jane Ottman and Marjory Imhoff, and at the close of the afternoon the children were ushered into the dining room, which was prettily decorated in yellow and white.

In the center of the table was a large birthday cake with eight yellow candles, while at each side of this were tall candles in brass holders. The attractive favors were small yellow baskets filled with mints and gay-colored paper caps.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake, hot chocolate and wafers were served.

The little guests were June and Winifred Sheldon, Dorothy Miller, Beulah and Marjory Huff, Jane Ottman, Helen Templin, Eleanor Robbins, Marjory Huff and Eola Erich.

Mrs. James Hannan assisted Mrs. Robbins in entertaining the children.
