Band Parade Wednesday At Fair Is Youth Spectacular

MOST SPECTACULAR show presented by the youth of Fairfield County during Lancaster Fair Week is the High School Band Parade scheduled the opening day, Wednesday.

Approximately 700 young musicians from 11 bands of the city and county, will march around the racetrack, starting at 9:45 a. m. Each band will give a five-minute show in front of the grandstand, which is always packed for nearly an hour before the parade.

Kearney Mass Leader

At the end the young people, resplendent in their vivid-hued uniforms, will form a Mass Band and play a group of numbers under the baton of David Kearney, director of instrumental music in Lancaster public schools and leader of the famed LHS Marching Band, composed this year of 90 members.

Robert Payne, assistant superintendent of Lancaster schools, again will serve as announcer for the Band Parade. The entire program is in charge of County Schools Supt. Paul R. Cummins.
