This writer was breezing through one of editions of "Country Living" (August, 1986) and whom did he find gracing the pages? None other than John Mathew, Director of Social Services and his brother Jeff Mathew, CCI Administrative Assistant 3. It seems the Mathew brothers are members of the Adelphi Men's Band and have played with this group for many years. The article stated that community bands of this nature were very popular in the late 1800's but have fallen upon hard times in recent years. The Adelphi Men's Band was formed in 1880 and proudly boasts of three members who had joined in 1924. Band members range in age from 11 to 95, all are accomplished musicians. They hail from Highland, Ross, Pickaway, Fairfield, Hancock and may we add, Marion County. John Plays trombone while Jeff's expertise is in the area of trumpet. In 1980, the band appeared in Washington D.C. and in 1985, they were presented a plaque for 60 years of appearances at the Circleville Pumpkin Show. We wish the Mathew brothers well in their musical endeavors. This year, "Country Living", next year, "Rolling Stone".....
