

INSTRUMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS GIVE A CREDITABLE CONCERT

By one who doubted the ability of Russell Squire director of instrumental music to successfully organize and direct instrumental organizations of the public schools, especially those of the grades, should have attended the concert given in Elks Hall Thursday evening, December 19 when the High School Orchestra, band and glee club, and the Junior Orchestra and Band were presented in a very creditable program.

The work of the Junior band and Junior Orchestra, composed of children between the ages of eight and twelve, was a revelation, since most of the children had never had their instruments in their hands before October. Considering the short time in which they were taught to handle their instruments and gain a conception of time and theme, the work done was really remarkable.

The work of the High school orchestra and band was done with close attention to the director, and displayed careful study.

Following is the program in full:
