

ADELPHI COMMUNITY BAND

Organized 1880 - 104 Continuous Existence

Went to Washington D.C. 1980 and played a concert on steps of Capital Building to celebrate 100th anniversary of band.

They have played at most of the festivals and fairs within 70 miles radius of Adelphi. The band usually numbers about 20-25 members on the various engagements. The ages of the band members ranges from 16-94. The oldest current playing member is Raymond Connett from Piketon, Ohio. Mr. Connett was previously the band director but now continues as a clarinet and tuba player and has been to most engagements this year.

The present director of the Adelphi Band is Herman "Bill" Hinton of near Adelphi. Mr. Hinton along with his sons and brothers have been connected with the band for many years. There has always been a father-son combination in the band.

The Band plays most of the traditional marching music style music. Their library of music includes most of the Sousa, King ets. marches.

It has been said by many persons watching a parade - "That is the Adelphi Band coming". Their music has a unique and familiar sound.
