

GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY ENTERTAINS CHILDREN

The members of the Young People's Orchestra of Trinity church and the members of Miss Catherine Callahan's dancing classes, who entertained between performances of "Neil Gwyn," which the Girls' Friendly Society recently sponsored, were entertained at St. Paul's Parish House, Monday evening, by the society. The children of the members were also invited. Games of all sorts, so interesting to children, were played during the evening, and prizes for musical chair were won by Alfred Eisnaugle and Marie Ellswick, while Madeline Graves and Alfred Eisnaugle were successful in the peanut hunt. A valentine box, both for the members and the guests, was most amusing, and a huge valentine "pie," from which each guest drew a prize, was very exciting.

Favors of valentines and red baskets filled with candy were given the guests. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served later in the evening.

The guests were Mrs. Wm. Huff, director of the orchestra; Mrs.

A VALENTINE PARTY

Mrs. Anna Yahraus entertained on Monday evening with a Valentine party, at her apartment in the Barrett Apartments, her guests being the members of A. I. U.

Music and card games were the diversions of the evening, and prizes were awarded Mrs. Anna Herholts and Mr. Frank Kuhn.

The apartment was tastefully decorated, appropriate to the Valentine season, and dainty refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Valentines were given each guest, and favors were presented to the ladies and the children.
