A MEASURING PARTY AND MUSICALE

Despite the inclement weather, there was a splendid attendance at the measuring party given Thursday evening at the Bridge Street Church of Christ by the Christian Workers.

The height of each guest was measured, thus establishing the admission. The affair was unusually attractive and a musicale was presented in an unique way, the members supposed to be at rehearsal for an entertainment in the town hall. All who participated were in Colonial costume.

The program included a piano solo by Miss Nettie Schiller, a piano duet by William and Ruth Collins, a harp solo by Franklin Mansfield, accompanied by Mrs. Will Huff, followed by a cornet duet by Marjory and Billy Huff. A quartet composed of Mrs. D. C. Mansfield, Mrs. Lee Dumm, Mrs. Scott Taylor and Mrs. Harold Brown, sang the familiar old song, "Juanita," and Mrs. Will Huff, dressed as Aunt Dinah, with her little daughter, Beulah, as her child, presented a rapsher of southern melodies, with Mrs. Huff playing the accompaniment on the guitar.

Miss Bernice Mansfield sang very sweetly "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," followed by two vocal selections by Helen Brown and Carlene Trego, and a reading by Mrs. Pearl Trego. Mrs. Dora Lee presented a number of selections on the accordion, after which Miss Phoyne Oakes gave several readings, and an orchestra, composed of Mrs. E. O. Olson, Marjory and Billy Huff, William Harris and Mrs. Harold Brown, concluded the evening with "Love's Old Sweet Song" "My Old Ken

RAZING THREE BUILDINGS ON SHORT NOTICE

Mr. Herman, who has built a new store room on the site of the Grotto restaurant, across from the court house, will probably have to wait some three weeks until his store room is finished and in shape to open for business. As it is now the building can be utilized for storing of stock until such time as completion fits it for commercial purposes.

The Fuchs & Deury store is to move to West Second street where Paul Mohr's studio is, and Mr. Mohr will move further west in the Union Block, to the room occupied by the Summers & Son music store and these in turn will move on to East Second street, where the Stockland and Herrnstein hardware room was just west of the Western Union Telegraph office.

The Smoke House will move into the room formerly occupied by C. F. Ware, the undertaker.
