

Adelphi band notes century in harmo

By NANCY McVICAR

ADELPHI — This tiny village nestled in a niche where Ross, Pickaway and Hocking counties come together started a community band back in 1880 — not unusual in those days. But 100 years later, the band is still going strong.

As part of the celebration of Ohio's Statehood Day and its centennial, the Adelphi Community Band will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday at Chillicothe High School. Raymond Connett, 89, of Piketon will direct.

Three musicians have been playing with the Adelphi Band for 56 years, starting as teen-agers back in 1924. They are Herman Hinton, 70; his brother, Curtis, 68; and David Pontious, 70.

All three will be playing Saturday night. The program will include marches and overtures.

"Most little villages used to have their own bands," Herman Hinton, deputy director of the Ross County Board of Elections, said. "We're just one of the ones that hung on."

Hinton said he isn't sure the Adelphi band is the oldest in existence, but it could be. He said the Liberty Cornet Band in Adams County has been around for about 80 years, and there could be older ones around the state, but he hasn't heard of them.

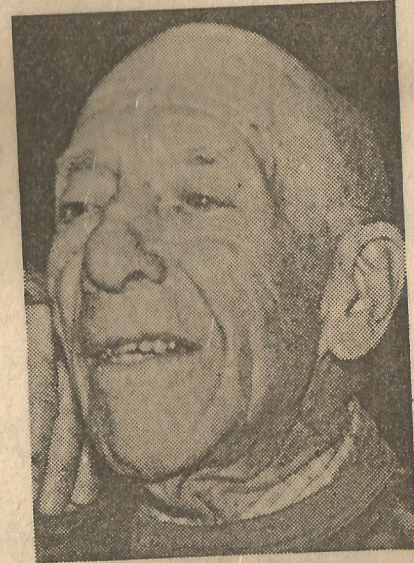

Band director Connett, who will be 90 in April, runs a piano shop in Piketon and has been with the band a relatively short time — about 15 years.

He said the band has been invited to Washington in June to perform on the steps of the Capitol in observance of its 100th birthday.

"Quite an honor," he said. Connett started the Ohio University band and taught music in public schools in Ohio until his retirement in 1970.

Lloyd Savage, one of the organizers of Statehood Day activities, said the Adelphi band "has maintained a tradition in interpreting band music for 100 years, whether a march tempo or special nuances needed in concert."

The first conductor was Mont Long of Circleville. By 1924 the director was Fred Powell, also of Circleville, followed in order by Frank Hickman and Charles Proxmire, both of Lancaster, and a former Cleveland Symphony player, Roderick Shaw, also of Lancaster. Then came the current conductor, Connett.

Raymond Connett

The band has always performed in parades and concerts in festivals and fairs, but a political rallies, Memorial dinners, fish fries and band has appeared at the Pumpkin Show for more t

Several presidents have tained by the band.

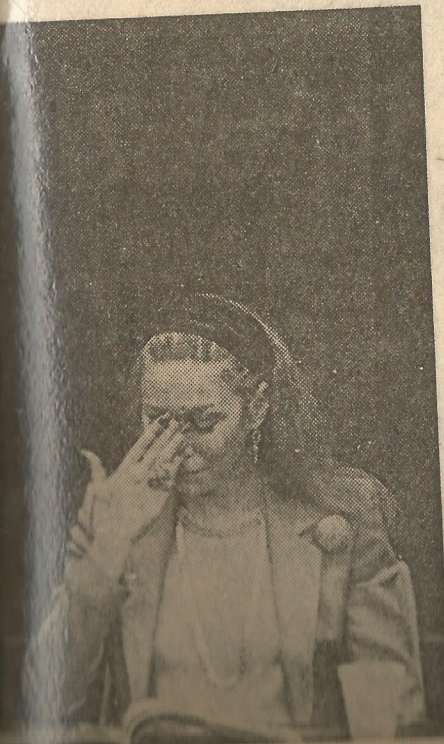

One former director w the unit he was buried in according to Savage.

The band usually prac phi, but their building is they have been practic one-room school in near

There are about 20 to 2 the band, some of them Hocking, Fairfield and P participate.

Why has the band hel these years?

"I can't answer that, "It isn't because it's a proposition. I guess it's j want to."

ment in Hustler case

enhouse magazine publisher Robert ... when attorney Ray Grulman

Good Morning

Weather forecast
Mostly cloudy Wednesday. High, low to mid-20s. Low, 5 to 10. Partly cloudy Thursday. High, mid-20s. Details on Page 17.

Daily number: 098

Inside

Amusements	6-7	Markets	13-15
Classified	17-18	Obituaries	16
Comics	19	Op Ed	5
Crossword	18	Sports	11-13
Editorials	4	Tempo	8

Today's Chuckle

Have a heart: Attend C-J Health Seminar

Interested in your health? Then attend the Citizen-Journal Seminar Thursday evening in the Masonic Temple auditorium, Fourth St.

The seminar, one of three scheduled, is sponsored by the Academy of Medicine for Columbus and Franklin County. A the 7 to 9 p.m. session is free. Doors will open by 6:45 p.m.

Subjects for the initial seminar are "Hypertension, Heart Disease." Speakers will be Dr. John M. Stang, Dr. ... and Dr. James W. Kilman, Dr. Steve Pariser w