DULCIMER FANS will be flocking to the restored canal town of Roscoe Village, Saturday and Sunday, for the annual dulcimer Days. The weekend highlight will be an amateur dulcimer competition in six categories with winner trophies and a handcrafted grand prize dulcimer for the overall winner in a final contest Sunday.

Competitions are arranged for men, women and children, for hammered and courting dulcimers and vocalists accompanied by the dulcimer. Contestants are invited to attend in 19th Century costume. Registration forms are available from R. V. Dulcimer Days, 381 Hill St., Coshocton (43812).

PROJECTS ABOUNDED during the recent annual Huntington Elementary School Science Fair for which Charles Marshall was director. First places among the 252 projects went to: Lori Rodgers, first grade; Jay Smith, second grade; Dawn Smith, third grade; Jeri Gozy and Dwayne Trego, fourth grade; Cindy L. Conley, fifth grade; John Baldwin and Jerry Atwood, sixth grade. Judges were Huntington High School science teachers Earl and Faye Knight.

MRS. ROBERT HAMMAN, Clarksburg, was hostess at a family dinner following the christening at the Clarksburg United Methodist Church of her granddaughter, Adelaide Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schmidt of Columbus. The Rev. Michael Wright administered the sacrament of baptism to Adelaide, Shayne Lael and Terrance Lee Davis, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Terrance Davis, also of Clarksburg, during the morning worship service.

BICENTENNIAL BITS: Upcoming events sanctioned by the Chillicothe-Ross County Bicentennial Commission include the bicentennial celebration, May 29-31, at the First Presbyterian Church of Chillicothe; the 7-9 p.m. June 3 appearance of the Appalachian Green Parks Concert group at Mound City Group National Monument; and a June 5 old-fashioned ice cream social at Tiffin Tower, including an evening concert by the Adelphi Community Band.

GENE JAMES, publisher of The Shoppers Review in Waverly, came home from the National Association of Advertising Publishers convention in San Francisco this week with an honor award in advertising promotion. It was the first time James had ever entered the nationwide competition and he vied with 650 entries. The winning Waverly entry was the 1975 Dogwood Festival edition.

SOME ALUMNI are "missing" from the Chillicothe High School Class of 1951 which is planning a reunion, Aug. 21, at the Holiday Inn. Mrs. Richard (Joanne) Tuttle, 29 Coventry Drive, asks folks to contact her with addresses for Madeline Cox, David England, Patricia Hall, Helen McCain, Flora Mae Osborne, Eulah Weese, Chuck Whitt and James D. Peters.

THE 1976 Ohio State Fair will be "raided" this year as students participate in the "Litter Raider '76" program conducted by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency. This year's Raiders receive a free ticket to the fair, a "Clean Up Your Act" T-shirt and a "Litter Raider" button. Groups wishing to join the "littering is un-FAIR" workers should contact the OHIO EPA, Public Interest Center, P.O. Box 1049, Columbus (43216).
