

men. He had intelligence, industry and he had the courage to stand up for what he believed to be right." Allen's most celebrated stand was against the two Panama Canal treaties that were approved by the Senate March 16 and April 18. Because he frequently held the Senate floor for hours during the debate on the treaties, Allen's name became known to millions who listened to the live broadcast of the proceedings on National Public Radio. Allen's voice was already familiar to millions in Alabama, where his political career spanned more than three decades. Several services were held Tuesday at Gadsden, Allen's hometown.

Thousands Expected For Old Car Club Festival

Thousands of people are expected to attend the 15th annual Spring Festival sponsored by Lancaster Old Car Club Inc. tomorrow and Sunday.

Trophies will be awarded in 33 categories to vehicle owners registered and on the grounds by 12 noon Sunday, according to Edson Devore, co-chairman of the show.

Members of Lancaster Old Car Club are not eligible for prizes or trophies, he said.

Free To Public

The festival is free to the public, said Ernie Harter, co-chairman. Refreshments and flea market items pertaining to antique auto parts will be available, too.

Hocking Valley Steam and Antique Power Club will display antique steam engines and farm equipment in the center of the racetrack.

Three grand prizes will be awarded to ticket holders, with winners' names drawn from registration numbers. Winners will be selected Sunday, but need not be present.

The car club entering the most cars will be awarded $25, while the club having the second highest entries will be given $15.

Membership in the clubs must be proven, Devore said.

One trophy will be presented to the registered participant driving the longest distance from his home to Lancaster.

Decisions Final

Car registration starts at 6 a.m. Saturday near the Broad Street entrance to the fairgrounds. All judges' decisions are final in the trophy competition, Harter said.

Another attraction of the show will be the appearance of the oldest-organized band in Ohio, the Adelphi Oldtimers Band, Sunday in the grandstand.

The Tri-State Chapter of the Studebaker Owner's Club will hold a zone meeting Saturday in conjunction with the festival.
