queen at Zane Trace.

Others in the parade were the Adelphi Band, which later performed at the Festival; Kingston Marshal Glenn Jordan and his deputies; Sheriff Fred J. Heinzelman; Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff; Mayor Paul Priest and Council President Russell Wolfe; the color guard of Kingston American Legion Post 291; Miss Festival of the Leaves Christi Adams; a float announcing the upcoming Circleville Pumpkin Show; Cub Scout Pack 33 from Kingston and several autos from the Antique Auto Club of Southern Ohio, which will sponsor an antique auto show at the festival Saturday.

Howard Carper, co-chairman of the festival, was master of ceremonies for the parade. The Adelphi Band played the Star Spangled Banner to officially open the Festival and Sherrie Edler presented a patriotic reading.

Thursday's Festival program begins at 4:30 p.m. with a second doubleheader baseball game.

Class D horseshoe pitching starts at 6 p.m., a western style square dance with Elden Pittenger calling at 6:30 p.m. and the annual amateur talent show, at 8:30 p.m.
