

Festival setting records

The 1975 Kingston Geranium Festival continued to top the 1974 event in terms of crowds and receipts Thursday, the second night of the annual event.

Beverly Congrove, a member of the festival committee, said receipts were better and the crowd "was every bit as good as last year's." The festival continues tonight and Saturday.

Thursday activities included a kitcher band performance, firefighters demonstration, youth league ball game, gospel music program and a square dance. There also are carnival rides, food booths, a country store and games at the festival each day.

Activities tonight include a square dancing exhibition by the Crosstralls, 7-8 p.m., and a square dance, 8 p.m.-midnight.

On Saturday, the final day of the festival, a children's fun time will begin at 9:30 a.m. and an adult fun time is scheduled for 4-5:30 p.m. Fun time activities will include events such as balloon blowing, nail driving, egg toss and greased pig contests.

A new car show sponsored by local auto dealers will be held during the afternoon, and the grand parade will begin at 7 p.m.

The Adelphi Band will perform 8-8:30 and another square dance, 8 p.m.-midnight, will conclude the festival.
