Sesqui Crowd Hears 'Liberty Bell' Ring

Hundreds of Lancaster and Fairfield-co residents were on hand this morning for the visit of the replica of the famed Liberty Bell, marking another highlight event in the Sesquicentennial celebration.

The bell tour, which will include each of the 88 counties in Ohio, is staged in connection with the Independence Bond Drive, sponsored by the U. S. Treasury Department.

After welcoming remarks and talks by civic, military and industrial leaders, the huge brass bell was rung for the first time in Lancaster by Miss Marilyn Neff, Sesquicentennial Queen and also by Miss Donna Lee McCarten, Miss Fairfield County.

Train Kills Lancastrian

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. in the Frank E. Smith funeral home for Paul E. Harmon, 36, of 1628 W. Fair-av, who was struck and killed by a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train at 12:30 a. m. Thursday near Sistersville, W. Va., where he has been doing house painting for the past several weeks.

Harmon apparently started to cross the track on a bend 100 yards north of Sistersville and was hit by the locomotive, authorities reported. His body was mutilated.

The Rev. Lester C. Benner of the Church of Christ in Christian Union will officiate at the services. The casket will be closed. Burial will be made in Millersport cemetery.

Survivors include two daughters, Norma Jean and Amy Irene, both of Parkersburg, W. Va., his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Mon Mason, both of the W. Fair-av address, and three brothers, Carl Harmon, Windham, O., Earl, of Columbus, and Cecil of Lancaster.

Former Lancaster Residents In 'Old Album Portraits'

Former Lancaster residents will appear in the stage program "Portraits From an Old Album" which is to be presented tonight at Lancaster High School auditorium by Mrs. Neil Fagan, Columbus.

Models will appear in dresses dating from 1750 to 1880, all de-

Then the hundreds of persons who attended the ceremony moved up to inspect the replica of the great bell which hangs in Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

The bell, aboard a special truck, was placed on display from 9 a. m. to 12 noon in the vacant lot west of Kroger's Market, West Wheeling-st. It was estimated that in the three hour period several thousand persons visited the exhibit.

Following the Invocation given by the Rev. Robert C. Bowman, of the First Presbyterian Church, Mayor Harold Brandon read his proclamation declaring this date as Independence Drive Day in Lancaster.

Colonel Allen Silbaugh, represented the Ohio National Guard, spoke in behalf of the Independence Bond drive as did the others on the program, including Robert Fox, president of Lancaster Lens Co.

Adelphi Band Plays

John B. Lake, vice-chairman of the Sesquicentennial committee, thanked the representatives of the Treasury Department and the committee in charge for their efforts in bringing the bell to Lancaster, particularly during the celebration week.

Paul Hyme, Assistant Personnel Director of Anchor Hocking Glass Corp., served as program chairman and in his remarks detailed the historical background of the original Liberty Bell and how the replica came into being in behalf of the bond drive.

The program was concluded with the ringing of the bell and the exhibit was again opened to the public.

Music for the program was furnished by the Adelphi Community Band, directed by Frank Hickman, Lancaster.

Dana Stewart, vice-president of the Farmers and Citizens Bank, served as chairman of the arrangements committee bringing the bell to Lancaster.
