Four youngsters were crowned Wednesday to reign over the Laurelville Firemen's Old Time Festival through Saturday.

While the Little Miss and Mister and Junior Miss and Mister were being chosen, the Huntington National Bank ballroom ascended from the street.

Crowned as Little Miss was Rainie Mason, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Mason, Laurelville. Her attendant is Darcy VanCuren, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danny VanCuren, Route 7, Laurelville. Reigning as Little Mister is Keith Knox, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nancy Keaton, Laurelville. His attendant is three-year-old Andy Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Hopkins, Middlefork Road. Shonna Dee Chestnut, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Chestnut, Laurelville, is the new Junior Miss. Her attendant is Mandy Harcourt, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orman Harcourt, Laurelville. The new Junior Mister is six-year-old Brad Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Adams, Laurelville. His attendant is Garry Hopkins, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Hopkins, Middlefork Road.

Miss Old Time Festival will be crowned tonight at ceremonies scheduled for 7:30. A rock concert and dance featuring Goldrush will follow the contest at 9 p.m.

Friday's festival schedule features two country music shows. Saturday's highlights include a carnival matinee, a firemen's water fight, a festival parade with Woody Hayes as grand marshal, square dancing and a cake auction.
