

EDIT SHARE PRINT DOWNLOAD Save to Ancestry

May.
Rates
North

assin-
Ianoi
new gotia-

e the r to
ould
In-
oliti-
lated
ves.

Viet
forts
nt of
set-
over
t in ader

nd

—
the posi-
e is
the d a s in

bled
77-
nan
to a
inat
atic
or

one
ews

re-
ell-
luc-
un-
nt
ent
JIO

ous
mi-
ked
ies.
ing
the

LAURELVILLE QUEEN AND HER COURT

Winners last night in the Miss Volunteer Fireman contest at the Laurelville Firemen's Old-Time Festival are shown here with winners of the Little Miss and Mister Volunteer Fireman contests. Standing at the rear are Kristie Wellman, center, the 1972 Miss Volunteer Fireman, and her attendants, Pamela Kempton (left) and Cheryl Jinks. Other winners shown include: from left, first row, Bobby Cramblit, Maria LeMaster, Brent Swackhamer, Kimberly Hinton and Dana Riddle; second row, Rodney Hart, Kitty Barton and Travis Barnes.

Laurelville Firemen's Queen Crowned

Miss Kristie Wellman, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wellman, Laurelville Rt. 1, was crowned as Miss Volunteer Fireman last night at the annual Firemen's Old-Time Festival in Laurelville. Miss Wellman is a sophomore at Laurelville.

First attendant to Miss Wellman is Cheryl Jinks, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jinks, Laurelville. She is a JO freshman.

Pamela Kempton, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Kempton, Laurelville, was named second attendant. She will be a senior in high school this fall.

The Queen and her court were chosen from among 19 contestants vying for the title of Miss Volunteer Fireman for 1972.

Judges were Mrs. Janette Mikes, co-owner and manager of the Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio, Logan; Mrs. Bobbie Moore, associated with the studio, and Jerry Lovett, a reporter for the Chillicothe Gazette.

To be eligible for the Miss Volunteer Fireman contest, entries had to be in high school and live within the Laurelville fire district.

This year's winner, along with winners of the Little Miss and Mister contest Tuesday night, will represent the department in all parades and festivities throughout the year.

After last night's contest, the Adelphi band performed before a large crowd. The stage is set up in the downtown business section of Laurelville.

Tonight's festivities will include judging of baked goods and a show by Jack Bartley, former WRFD disc jockey.

Items for the baking contest must be entered at the firehouse between the hours of 4 and 7 p.m. today. Judging will start at 8 p.m.

Friday night's schedule will include music by the "Bad Night" rock band and judging of Old-Time Festival costumes.

The five-day festival will conclude Saturday with a pony pull at 1 p.m., a parade at 6 p.m., a square dance at 8 p.m. and a country and western music concert on stage at 9 p.m.

into
and
of th
the
tive,
ed.

W Sti
M

By T

Sho
soake
again
early
down
Plain
power
the N

Sev
south
day n
state
electr
idenc
more

Pov
sectio
sachu
and J
w i n
storm
lines.

COL

Here
mary
er Se
Ohio
warm
from tered

A n
istere
Hockl
ise of
of 92.
66, w
low-ly
warm
a cha
foreca

showe

evenin
respir
er tod
High
reach
90s. T
lows i 70%

Show article text (OCR) ▼