Other attractions for the all-day and evening event include a flea market, trap shooting, horseshoe pitching, children's games and contests, greased pole for the children, fish and chicken dinners with serving to begin at 4:30 p.m., fish, other sandwiches and refreshments will be served during the day and evening.

For the first time a flea market will be held at the Field Day. Space is available. Anyone interested may contact Tom Sowers or Mrs. James Martin.
