

Festival queen crowned LAURELVILLE— Tamara Klotz, 15 was chosen Miss Old Time Festival from daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe nouneuse, Laurelville.

The queen contest and a rock music concert were highlights of the third evening of festival activity for the Laurelville community. An estimated 3,000 persons attended the festival Thursday evening. The weather remained dry during the festival, but rain fell after the evening's activities had ended.

tell after the evening's activities had ended.

Tonight's program will include a concert 6-8 p.m. by the Bicentennial Community Band, country music program by the "Customs" and a square dancing demonstration by the Ministeppers 8-9 p.m., and a stage performance by the Laurelville Marching Majorettes at 9 p.m.

Activities will begin at noon Saturday, the final day of the festival, with a firemen's water battle at the ball field. There will also be a 14-p.m. carnival matinee, 3 p.m. "Country Knights" country music program, 6 p.m. parade with old time dress contest, 7 p.m.

Adelphi Band concert, 8 p.m. Justice Family Band performance and square dance, and a 9 p.m. cake suction, followed by more novice and excite.

Dika plant

Clipped By:

mathew5554 Thu, Mar 21, 2019

