

light
GAR-
The
the
an-
luck.
com-
ener
hite,
gust
hard ved.

Youngsters

(Continued from Page One)
McFarling of Baltimore.

Juniors Parade

Following smartly behind the ump-pah-pah of the Adelphi band, participants in the Junior Fair parade circled the race track at 7 p. m. In the parade were Girl Scouts, Brownies, Boy Scouts, junior livestock entries of FFA and 4-H members and floats depicting various aspects of club work. An added feature of the parade was Wendell Rhinehart, cavorting "cop" clown, who "marched" astride his donkey.

Finale for the excellent, but exhausting, day put in by young fair exhibitors was the Junior Fair program given in front of the grandstand following the parade. Handicapped by an ineffective public address hook-up, the 30-voice 4-H chorus opened the program with ten selections of popular and folk songs. Mrs. Marcus Snyder of Chillicothe directed the group, and Marilyn Ratcliff of Londonderry was mistress of ceremonies. Joyce Wiltshire, Londonderry, and Judy Cooper, Bourneville, accompanied the chorus. During the final number by the chorus, "Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue," four-year-old Becky Easter and her three-year-old cousin, Jimmy Dale Brumfield, held the spotlight as they stood bearing American flags at the center of the

stag
A Joll
lico
dire
pre
dan
tion
the
A
am flo
Ros
der
Ho
clu
the
fus
dis
clu
sha
ing
cla
A
wis
the
wit
pro
to
era
yea
t
we cha jud
Bu
Co

Clipped By:

mathew5554
Wed, Mar 20, 2019