Hurst's Grove Readied for Field Day

CLARKSBURG — Hurst's Grove, site of the 41st annual Clarksburg Field Day to be held Thursday, received a final grooming Monday and commercial exhibitors were expected to begin moving in equipment today.

Temporary concession stands and tents also will be put up today and tomorrow, and areas for sporting events, trapshooting, and a tractor pulling contest will be staked off.

Many attractions are planned for the day-long affair, starting at 10:30 a.m. with the tractor-pulling contest. Trapshooters will begin firing at noon, and the first of two concerts by the Adelphi Band will be given in the afternoon. The other is planned that night.

Throughout the afternoon, athletic contests for youngsters and adults will be held, and rides on ponies and in Davy Crockett mule carts will be provided for the children. The usual large number of commercial exhibits is anticipated.

Featured entertainers for the evening program are Rudy Hanson, a 27-year-old vocalist who also plays the guitar, and the Pine Mountain Boys, who perform regularly with the Midwestern Hay Ride troupe.

Women of the community will serve fish and chicken dinners starting at 4:30 p.m.
