Firemen's Labor Day Celebration

Concessions, rides, demonstrations, displays and music are planned for the Firemen's Labor Day Celebration Friday through Monday in Stoutsville.

Parades will be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday, 5 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday. The Old Fashion Day Grand Parade will be held 10 a.m. Monday.

Contests will be held for the selection of the Little Miss and Mister firefighters at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Miss Firefighter at 6 p.m. Saturday, and babies and pets at 3:45 p.m. Sunday. Monday contests feature old-fashioned clothes, beard growing, men's sexy legs, and baby crawling. The firemen's water battle will be held at noon.

Gospel music, round and square dancing and an Adelphi Band concert will also be featured during the weekend. Charlie Stineman will be performing Monday with one or all of his handmade violins.

The festivities are sponsored by the Stoutsville Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary. All proceeds will be used to buy new equipment and other items to improve the department.

Stoutsville is five miles east of Circleville on Stoutsville Pike near the Pickaway-Fairfield county line.
