MARKET RALLIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—Stock shares led a brisk rally in the stock market at the opening today as trading grew so swift that theickers were forced four minutes behind the actual market in the first 15 minutes of the session. Early gains ranged to more than 2 points.

The New York Times which said early reflection the international situation may have on the stock market would be felt first on the London exchange.

Although stocks on the London market have slumped, the advance was not apparent until after the close on the New York exchange had begun.

Discussions in out-going relations stemming from the government's exchange policy have been mentioned.

Meat Shops Closing In Many Cities

By The United Press

The meat famine set in today as housewives crowded the nation's saw-tooth butcher shops to find that steaks, chops and fresh meat in general had all but disappeared. Butchers in many cities already had sold all their meat and shut up shop until more is available. The National Association of Retail Meat Dealers said that as many as half the country's retail dealers may be forced to close part-time next week.

As the shortage deepens, a spokesman for the association said, many butchers were turning to fish and poultry as substitutes for meat. The army, the nation's biggest consumer, said it would be forced to do the same unless it gets more meat.

The shipment of livestock to the 12 major stockyards yesterday was the lowest in history for a Tuesday. Only 18,200 head of cattle

Youth Pleads Guilty To Auto Theft; Two Men Arraigned In Common Pleas Court

Thomas J. Stone, 18, Cincinnati, Wednesday was under sentence of 1 to 20 years in the Mansfield Reformatory for automobile theft. He pleaded not guilty, Tuesday morning, before Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge Emmett L. Cline, but Tuesday afternoon the youth reappeared in court and changed his plea to guilty.

An escapee from the Boys' Industrial School, Lancaster, Stone allegedly stole the car of Paul B. Chester, Williamsport, July 25, and later was arrested at Cincinnati and was transferred to the county jail in Circleville.

Two more of the 19 men who were indicted Sept. 6 by the grand jury were arraigned Wednesday before Judge Cline.

Bill For $400,000 Indemnity From Yugoslavia Backs Protection Program

Americans Argue With Poles And Seek More Details Of Trieste Shooting

By JOHN L. STEELE

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—A bill for $400,000 in indemnity from Yugoslavia today underscored the government's determination to protect Americans abroad from high-handed treatment.

The state department demanded the cash settlement from Yugoslavia in return for the act of Yugoslav aircraft in shooting down two unarmed American transport planes with the loss of five lives.

A stiffening U. S. attitude against the summary treatment accorded Americans in some foreign lands was also seen in these developments:

1. The state department indicated it would press its inquiries regarding 50 to 60 Americans held by Polish authorities without suitable explanation.

2. Further information was requested on the weekend shooting fray in Trieste in which six American soldiers were injured in a clash with Yugoslav demonstrators.

3. The department planned to back an appeal by William Wedge, warden in the U. S. embassy in Belgrade, from the eight year jail sentence and $4,000 fine for a traffic accident in which a Yugoslav officer was killed and another injured.

But interest centered on the indemnity demands for last month's shooting down of the two American C-47s by Yugoslav fighters.

Criticism did not reveal the specific U. S. indemnity bill, but indicated it would approach $400,000 and in any case would be no lower than $200,000.

It was pointed out that the total value of the two American aircraft when new was about $170,000, leaving roughly $230,000 for indemnification to the families and other dependents of the dead.

Informal diplomatic sources revealed the American claim shortly after acting secretary of state

WSB Decision Awaited As U. S. Strikes Continue

By United Press

The wage stabilization board was expected to make known its decision today on demands that it relax wage curbs to end the nationwide maritime strike, but there appeared little likelihood of early settlements in other labor disputes.

The WSB late yesterday took under advisement requests that it reverse its stand and approve wage increases for striking AFL seamen which it previously had rejected as inflationary.

Meanwhile, the combined effect of the maritime walkout and an AFL transporters' strike brought the New York metropolitan area to the brink of its worst crisis since the war.

New York housewives began panic buying as groceries disappeared from racks of stores.

Millions of Dollars Worth Of Treasure Saved By Nazis Discovered

FRANKFURT, Sept. 11—Pickled men of the American counter-intelligence force swooped down on carefully selected targets today to confiscate what may be the last remnants of the Nazi treasure trove.

Millions of dollars worth of jewels, gold and silver were found in scores of secret hiding places. This was the fabulous hoard which the Nazis had tucked away just before V-E day. It probably was to have been used for financing a rebirth of national socialism and the emergence of a new fuhrer.

An American military government spokesman said there was no way of telling just how much the accumulated treasure was worth, at least for a few days.

He said the hiding places were for the most part in factories, jewelry stores and banks. But one truckload of silverware and gold plate was holed behind a stone wall.

The first tip-off came in an obscure list of names and addresses compiled by the "Black Agency" for previous Nazis in Berlin.

Military government officials kept the knowledge that they had the list from the Germans for three months and then suddenly activated the force of pickled men and German courtesans for the raid.

There were 307 targets for the 24-hour operation and so far results have been tabulated from only 29.

Disposition of the property or individually-owned and unregistered valuables will be decided by the military government but it is a foregone conclusion that the wealth will be confiscated.

All the valuables should have been registered with the Allied military government. Many of the Germans who were found at the hiding places were arrested.

Fragmentary tabulation of the wealth found only in a few of the hiding places disclosed about $2-
