...one of the great feasts: the Jewish Passover. It was observed for an entire week from the 15th to the 22nd of Tishri. The feast marked the completion of the harvest of fruit, olives and oil and wine, and closed the tribal year.

During its celebration the people lived in booths made with branches of palm trees and willow trees. The sacrifices were of a more numerous kind than at any other feast and the choicest of fruits were brought into the temple. Historically it commemorated the wanderings in the wilderness.

Harvest Home Festival with its beautiful symbolism and Holy Communion will be observed at St. John's Evangelical church next Sunday.
